NOTES

1) Notice of Other Duties

Please note that in addition to this environmental authority, you may have obligations at law under the Environmental Protection Act (for example, compliance with Environmental Protection Policies), the Contaminated Land Act and other obligations at law created by the Federal, State and Local Governments.

2) Environmental Duties under the Environmental Protection Act

The Environmental Duties under the Environmental Protection Act are as follows:

- Section 36(1) provides that a person must not carry out any activity that causes, or is likely to cause, environmental harm unless the person takes all reasonable and practicable measures to prevent or minimise the harm (the "general environmental duty").

- Section 37 requires that a person who becomes aware that serious or material environmental harm is caused or threatened by an activity they are involved in, has a duty to report that harm. Employees have a duty to report the harm to their employer who then assumes the duty to notify the administering authority. Where an employer cannot be contacted the person must notify the administering authority. People are exempt from this requirement if the harm is occurring under an environmental protection policy, an environmental management program, an environmental protection order, an environmental authority or a direction from an authorised person in an emergency.

3) Amendment of a Licence

Section 49 of the Act provides for the licensee to be able to apply for an amendment of their licence. Examples where an application for a licence amendment should be submitted are:

If the licensee proposes to:

1. carry out an activity at a site which is not authorised by the licence, or
2. change the number or types of activities; or
3. increase the scale of a currently licensed activity; or
4. significantly change the way in which the activity/activities are operated, such that the licence conditions cannot be complied with.

4) Sale of a Licensee's Business

Section 53 of the Act applies if a licensee proposes to dispose of the business to someone else. Before agreeing to dispose of the business, the licensee must give written notice to the buyer that the buyer must make application under this Act for the transfer of the licence or for a new licence.

5) Ceasing to carry out the licensed activity

Section 54 of the Act provides that within 14 days after ceasing the environmentally relevant activity to which this licence relates, the licensee must give written notice of the ceasing of the activity to the administering authority.
