Dear Mr Stevenson

Thank you for your email of 5 September 2018, regarding your request to vary Enforceable Undertaking (the undertaking) MAN19700 issued made by you in relation to your activities at the treated effluent storage dam known as Golf Course Dam located on land adjacent to the Dysart Golf Course on Lot 11 on CNS at Dysart Queensland.

The Department of Environment and Science (the department) has considered your request and agrees to vary the undertaking (MAN19700) as follows:

- Extending the time to comply with 9.1(C) from the original due date of 13 September 2018 for a 10 week extension to the new date of 22 November 2018; and
- Extending the time to comply with 9.1(D) from the original date of 13 March 2019 for a 10 week extension to the new date of 22 May 2019.

Reason for the decision
The department has considered the following information in making its decisions.

- Section 509 of the Environmental Protection Act 1994 (the Act) provides the ability for you (a person who has made an enforceable undertaking) at any time, with the written agreement of the administering authority, to vary the enforceable undertaking.
- On 17 July 2018, you received an amended Environmental Authority (EA) which included amendments to prescribed conditions for the management of the Dysart Wastewater Treatment Plant and effluent irrigation. For you to comply with 9.1(C) of the undertaking, you must satisfy 9.1(B) of the undertaking which talks directly to analysing the land area in accordance with the EA.

- In your submission 5 September 2018, you expressed commitment to the undertaking by providing an interim report, which demonstrates your attempts to meet the objectives of the undertaking.
- On 13 September 2018, you submitted an interim investigation report and accompanying correspondence which detailed the missing element of the dependence of 9.1(C)(b) on the completeness of the investigation report.
- The proposed variation does not alters the spirit or intent of the original enforceable undertaking.

Should you have any further enquiries, please contact Miss Alisha Stewart, Compliance Delivery Manager of the department on telephone 07 4999 6883 or email cwes_mackay@des.qld.gov.au.

Yours sincerely
